Provocation Ideas Festival - May/June 2022

May 12, 2022

The Provocation Ideas Festival aspires to create a new public square of spirited discussion that is rooted in local communities but informed globally, for which an informed and engaged public is critical.

The festival brings together voices from community, public health, justice, governance, and acclaimed artists whose work challenges our conventional perspectives.

Provocation is a not-for-profit organization governed by a volunteer Board of Directors who have generously shared their expertise, knowledge, support, and commitment in overseeing the planning and development of the festival.
