Published on University of Toronto Faculty Association (https://www.utfa.org)

UK Pension Strike

March 19, 2018

Since February 22, 2018, members of the University and College Union (UCU) across the United Kingdom have been on strike to protest attempts to cut their defined-benefit pension scheme, USS. With pension changes on the horizon for UTFA members, UTFA has selected a series of news articles to put the issue in an international context.

March 13, 2018

- UCU: HEC decides no deal

March 12, 2018

- UCU: Agreement reached between UCU and UUK under the auspices of ACAS

March 7, 2018

- BBC: Oxford U-turn in university pension cut dispute

March 6, 2018

- The Independent: We should all be as angry as university staff about the state of our pensions. They're a crisis in the making

February 25, 2018

- The Independent: If you look at the economics, it's completely reasonable for university lecturers to strike over pension changes

February 22, 2018

- New Statesman: What the university staff strike reveals about our broken higher education system
- BBC: University pension boss's £82,000 pay rise

Source URL (modified on Apr 2 2025):https://www.utfa.org/content/uk-pension-strike