Published on University of Toronto Faculty Association (https://www.utfa.org)

Meet two U of T faculty members honoured by OCUFA for outstanding teaching

October 29, 2018

Mary Gooderham, U of T News

One faculty member has a policy never to lecture for more than 20 minutes at a time; the other has students understand DNA in a very physical way.

Two University of Toronto associate professors have been named among Ontario's outstanding university teachers by the Ontario Confederation of University Faculty Associations (OCUFA).

Michelle Craig, an associate professor, teaching stream, in the department of computer science, and Fiona Rawle, an associate professor, teaching stream, in the department of biology at U of T Mississauga, received the 2017-2018 OCUFA Teaching Award at a ceremony on Saturday in Toronto. The two were recognized for their passion and dedication as teachers as well as their commitment to active learning in their respective disciplines.

Read the full article

Source URL (modified on Oct 29 2018):https://www.utfa.org/content/meet-two-u-t-faculty-members-honoured-ocufa-outstanding-teaching