Schools in York, Halton and Peel regions as well as Hagersville report COVID-19 cases

September 14, 2020

Toronto Star

At least four southern Ontario school boards, including three in the GTA, reported at least one COVID-19 case in their communities Sunday.

Three of the schools are Louise Arbour Secondary School in Brampton, Our Lady of Fatima CES in Woodbridge and Walpole North Elementary in Hagersville, just south of Brantford.

Each school put out a letter to parents and students notifying them of the cases and how they will be dealing with them moving forward.

The Halton District School Board's COVID-19 Advisory Committee also reported that Garth Webb Secondary School in Oakville and Brant Hills Public School in Burlington each have one case, according to its COVID-19 Advisory page.
