After a major testing operation, a Quebec City school will be closed for two weeks after 20 students and five staff members tested positive, authorities say.

Education Minister Jean-François Roberge announced on Twitter on Sunday that the elementary school, called Sans-Frontière, would be closed until Oct. 2.

"We've been informed after a massive testing effort at Sans-Frontière school, 25 positive cases have been detected by Quebec City Public Health, including 20 students and five members of staff," Roberge wrote.
