Video: "Is it safe enough to return to campus? What do public health scientists say?"

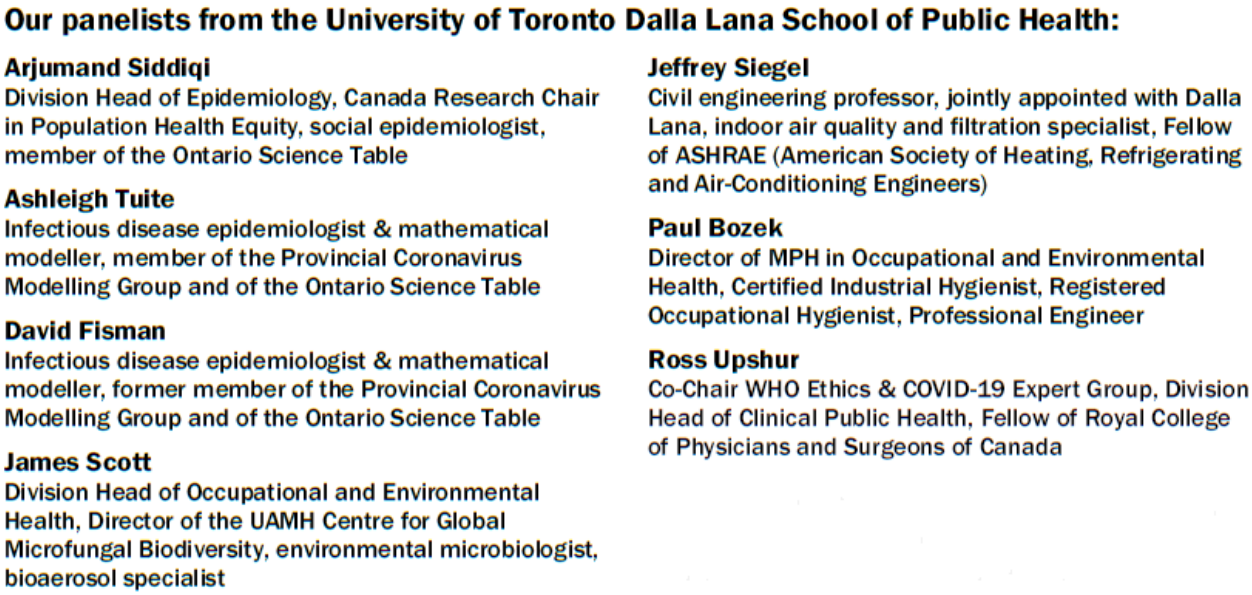

September 16, 2021

On September 9th UTFA co-sponsored an expert panel titled “Is it safe enough to return to campus? What do public health scientists say?”

Panelists answered representative questions received from attendees ahead of time and via Zoom Q&A.

This expert panel was organized by the Toronto Inter-University Coalition, which is comprised of faculty associations and unions from Toronto’s four universities and with the technical assistance of OCUFA.
